

Are you the parent of a child with Developmental Coordination Disorder (DCD)?

If so, you are invited to take part in a research study to:

- Capture insights into your experiences of having a child with DCD
- Explore the implications of an earlier diagnosis
- Provide suggestions for bringing parental concerns to primary care providers

Who can join the study?

- Parents of children with a diagnosis of DCD
- Parents willing to share their experiences

What's involved?

- 5 minute online questionnaire
- 45-60 minute Zoom interview

Your voice matters!

By sharing your experiences, you could help shape strategies for improving earlier diagnoses & intervention for children with DCD.

For more information on joining the study please contact:

Gisela Gosse, Researcher Coordinator at ggosse@cw.bc.ca

604-875-2345, ext. 5948

Zwicker Lab